MISTBORN by Brandon Sanderson

From the back cover— For a thousand years the ash fell and no flowers bloomed. For a thousand years the Skaa slaved in misery and lived in fear. For a thousand years the Lord Ruler, the "Sliver of Infinity," reigned with absolute power and ultimate terror, divinely invincible. Then, when hope was so long lost that not even its memory remained, a terribly scarred, heart-broken half-Skaa rediscovered it in the depths of the Lord Ruler's most hellish prison. Kelsier "snapped" and found in himself the powers of a Mistborn. A brilliant thief and natural leader, he turned his talents to the ultimate caper, with the Lord Ruler himself as the mark. Kelsier recruited the underworld's elite, the smartest and most trustworthy allomancers, each of whom shares one of his many powers, and all of whom relish a high-stakes challenge. Only then does he reveal his ultimate dream, not just the greatest heist in history, but the downfall of the divine despot. But even with the best criminal crew ever assembled, Kel's plan looks more like the ultimate long shot, until luck brings a ragged girl named Vin into his life. Like him, she's a half-Skaa orphan, but she's lived a much harsher life. Vin has learned to expect betrayal from everyone she meets, and gotten it. She will have to learn to trust, if Kel is to help her master powers of which she never dreamed.

MEMORIES by Lang Leav

From the introduction— Beloved poetry pieces from Leav's Lullabies and Love & Misadventure are collected together in this illustrated treasury. In addition, 35 new poems that have not been published in any Lang Leav collection offer something new to discover. The author's original art is presented in lovely four-color illustrations.

The Long Walk by Stephen King

From Stephenking.com - In the near future, where America has become a police state, one hundred boys are selected to enter an annual contest where the winner will be awarded whatever he wants for the rest of his life. The game is simple - maintain a steady walking pace of four miles per hour without stopping. Three warnings, and you're out - permanently.

K'wSIXw SPQNI? THE MONTH OF THE GEESE

When the geese were spotted flying in from the south that was a good sign that the winter months were coming to an end. It was time to look ahead to warmer weather. During the first part of the month, some of the people would go to certain lakes to snag, and trap fish. The people would be preparing for their hunting trips, berry picking and root digging. This is also when łčła (Blackbirds) would be arriving.

This information was retrieved from the Salish-Pend d'Oreille Culture Committee website which is full of great resources.

Have you played with the Animal Field Guide Flathead Reservation App or the Salish Language App? Check out the JH/HS Library's iPad to see if these would be useful tools for you. Here are just a few screen shots from using the Animal Field Guide App to look up Goose. You can also listen to the Salish and Kootenai pronunciations and the sounds geese make. The App also allows you to map and report observations.

THE 3D PRINTER UPDATE

It is not hard folks. If I can do it, you can too! I use Tinkercad, a simple free browser-based design program. You create your design in Tinkercad, save the file to a USB flash drive, and then plug the flash drive into the printer. There are other design programs you can use but Tinkercad is recommended for beginners. Click here to view a 3-minute Tinkercad Tutorial Video.

Tinkercad also has a gallery of files that you can download and print or download, edit, and then print. The website Thingiverse also has 3D files to download and print.

Check out the 3D goose from the Tinkercad Gallery. I did make it slighter bigger than the original file. The printer can only print one color per project. We have the following filament colors: green, silver, pink, orange, red, black, blue, and white. This is the first project I attempted to paint after it printed. The goose took 4 hours to print and is 3.5" tall.
